

Boherbuoy Brass and Reed Band

Summer Concert

June 8th 2003

I would like to welcome you here tonight to our summer concert. Hopefully, you will notice recent work done on the band room – clearing, cleaning, painting and renovating. Many band members have spent hours and days here over the last few weeks, and tonight we celebrate their work. The Boherbuoy Junior Band, who made their debut at our Christmas Concert, has made significant progress, with all members coming to weekly practice. I would like to pay tribute to the members of the senior band who give of their time to teach the junior members, and I think their time and effort is well rewarded. I would also encourage the members of the junior band to continue their practice, and we would hope to introduce them into the senior band rehearsals sometime in the next year.

I would like to pay tribute to our conductor, Derbhile De Paor, who has worked tirelessly putting the band through rigorous practice. It is all worth it, and we hope to perform well for the South of Ireland Band Competitions in Clonakilty next month. I would like to thank each and every member of the band – I know we have had a busy spring, and June and July plan to be very busy, and I wish to thank everyone for making that extra little bit of effort.

So finally, I would like to thank you, our family and friends for coming here tonight and I hope you enjoy the concert.
