The Ranunculaceae Society was founded on 04 November 2003 in Dublin, Ireland.

AIMS: The Society was founded to:

- (1) foster a deeper and wider interest in the wealth of garden plants, which belong to the buttercup family – Ranunculaceae;
- (2) develop and disseminate in-depth information (horticultural and botanical) about the different genera of plants in cultivation at geographically diverse venues;
- (3) promote wider availability and distribution of little-known genera, species and cultivars and
- (4) to ensure large-scale cultivation and preservation of all known genera, species and cultivars. In particular we aim to encourage all gardeners to cultivate and enjoy as many plants as possible, which belong to this family.

ACTIVITIES: 3 or 4 national and international meetings annually of illustrated lectures, discussions, demonstrations, study days and symposia. Joint meetings with other societies such as the Clematis, Delphinium, Hardy Plant and Alpine Societies. National and international garden and specialist nursery visits. Rare and unusual plant sales. Seed exchange.

PUBLICATIONS: Newsletters – Information on all the activities of the Society as well as contributions on plants, notes and tips on cultivation etc., from members.
Fact Sheets.

WEBSITE: Information about the Society, plant of the month, notes on new cultivars, photographs etc. (www.buttercuponline.com)
